

New cat?

Remember the 3-3-3 rule

Every cat is different, but these 3 steps can generally help most cats make themselves at home.

3 Days to Decompress

This is the time to take things SLOW. Let your cat feel things out and start to establish routines. They may sleep or hide as they adjust to their new space.

3 Weeks to Settle In

This is the time to really get to know your cat and allow them to get to know you! During this period start introductions to friends, family, and other pets.

3 Months to Really Feel at Home!

This is the time to continue to build trust with your new best friend. Try enrichment exercises and play, explore new adventures, and enjoy your life together!
